FGM Class of '07 celebrates commencement

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Twenty-one members of the F. G. Miller High School Class of 2007 celebrated their commencement with family and friends on Friday, Aug. 31. Seven other graduates were unable to attend, but were also honoured during the ceremony.

Departing principal Laverne Wilson welcomed the graduates and their guests, and introduced Brittany Morrison, who sang O Canada. Wilson then introduced the teaching staff, as they came forward to light ceremonial candles and line up in front of the stage, each proudly wearing the robes of their alma mater.

Cheri Lindquist introduced graduates Brittany Ballas, Dan Blacklock, Cassandra Cochrane, Craig Dallaire, Bradley Kalynchuk, Lisa Kozicky, Sara Kozicky, Troy Lehr, Tellia Loughran, Tyler Loughran, Sage Lowry, Ryan MacDonald, Kassy Morrill, Emily Mosley, Tanya Orr, Jason Porcina, Jessica Priddle, Natasha Scott, Tyson Sommerville, Brett Youngmans and Nicholas Zapesocki as they marched slowly in during a solemn processional, each pausing to have their candle lit by one of the teachers before they took their places on stage for the ceremonies.

Randall Kryes gave the invocation.

Valedictorian Lisa Kozicky said the class had "come a long way from kindergarten together." She predicted that the problems they had faced in junior high "will seem so unimportant" compared to the challenges of their adult lives, when parents will no longer be there to make them do their homework and wake them up in the mornings.

"This is the exam of becoming an adult. Graduation is the end of our childhood, and tomorrow is the beginning of our adult lives," she noted. "We will be free to pursue our lives."

She urged her classmates to make the most of their skills and talents and to do what they like and are good at. "It's all up to you."

Darrell Youngmans spoke on behalf of the school board, and started off with thanks to Wilson, who came out of retirement two years ago when F. G. Miller's incoming principal unexpectedly resigned. "This is another example of this man's community spirit," Youngmans said, noting that Wilson had been the principal at Heinsburg when he graduated.

Chamber deep in plans for fall and winter

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce got right down to work at their first meeting after the summer break, discussing project plans and setting the date for upcoming events.

Thomas Kondla reported that the chamber's major project, a self-sustainable eco-centre and tourist information facility, may be eligible for up to $200,000 in funding under a new major community facility program. Kondla has been working on the application for the grant, and says it is "way more extensive" than the paperwork involved in the previous grant. The chamber executive went through the 25 pages of information after the meeting to give their input before Kondla took the document to town council for their approval and potential submission.

"Once we put in the application, there will be no turning back," Kondla said. "We have $46,000 left of the original grant, and the notice of change has gone in. We need to use that by the end of the year, on blueprints and site development."

Kondla will update the economic development committee on the chamber's plans once the application has gone in.

The trees currently located at the proposed site of the building "will be an issue," Kondla says. "I'm proposing that they be harvested and kept, to be later turned into benches, and that they be replaced with fast-growing trees as soon as possible after the building is completed."

Website update planned

Bob Bezpalko reported that "a lot of ideas came out last night" when the economic development committee's marketing focus group met. "My ideal goal is to go to the local groups to get their input for the new town website." Bezpalko noted that the chamber doesn't have a presence on the current website, but should be included once it is updated. He indicated that some funding may be available through Travel Alberta because of its tourism potential.

Building boom

Town manager Myron Goyan reported "excellent" new home construction underway. "It's been a big plus having the contractor in since the beginning. He's been building since he acquired the lots, and has also bought numerous lots in town."

"The new subdivision is sold out," Kondla added. "Winalta has bought the rest."

Winalta, who will have a display at Information Night tonight, also has purchased the 26-lot second phase of the subdivision, and plans to have houses in the first phase by November.

Election forum a possibility

The municipal election nomination day is coming up Sept. 17, and the chamber is ready to get involved if sufficient candidates come forward to require an election. The chamber has tentatively planned a candidates' forum for Tuesday, Oct. 9.

Class of '07 celebrates commencement

"Age aside, I am amazed at the zeal Laverne brought to the job. It has been an honour to work with him.

This was Youngmans' sixth FGM grad, and the second time he as wished farewell to a departing principal. he said, "This is a special grad class for me. You learn a lot at the spring festivities, and it is an honour to take part in my son's graduation."

The graduates "will be leaving with diploma in hand, ready to shape society. I know well enough you will be in good hands. We will always be here for you, and we ask you to do the same. Don't be strangers. We are all proud of you, but you can still count on us for unsolicited advice, anyway."

Superintendent of schools Doug Yeo also praised Wilson. "Laverne is one man I've always admired. He has helped us so much in this community."

Yeo also thanked Lily Pentek, who had her teaching career cut short by illness, for being part of the graduation ceremony.

"In our eyes, you have accomplished a dream that is incredible," Yeo told the grads. "Dreams, desire, character and cohesiveness make a difference. They are ingredients you need to never give up. You are all winners today."

Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, the Hon. Ray Danyluk, recalled that Wilson had retired "during one of the first years I was a school trustee. Since then, he has retired I don't know how many times." He thanked Wilson "on behalf of the kids," for his involvement in their education.

"It does take a community to raise a child. The community has been involve in so many opportunities you have had at F. G. Miller," he told the grads. "When I was a student here, I never did appreciate that." He urged the graduates to remember where they come from, and to "wear you colours so proudly. Never, ever forget to come back."

As the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, Danyluk said he has seen "so many areas where the connection (between school and community) isn't there."

In New York, he visited a housing facility for 200 families where "children have a blank look on their face because they have no future. The school grounds have fences with razor wire on the tops to protect the children from outside elements. In Elk Point we have a community that wants to support you. Look out into the crowd, and see how many are here to support you in your future."

Gary Parenteau spoke on behalf of Fishing Lake Métis Settlement, thanking the community for their support. "When you're building a community, there has to be understanding and tolerance. This community has provided that to our students." He told the graduates that as they go out into their careers, "tolerance and understanding are very important. They will help you to succeed." Parenteau presented a traditional Métis sash to graduate Troy Lehr on behalf of the settlement.

A power-point presentation entitled "Momentous Moments" accompanied the presentation of pins, key chains and awards to each student, with Lindquist telling a little about each graduate as Youngmans and Wilson made the presentations. Graduates Vanessa Deschamps, Shaidel Heagy, Rosie Jurak, Amber Morris, Martina Murfin, Bradley Swedgan and Rhonda Wruth, who were not at the ceremonies, were also applauded as their photos were displayed in the presentation.

With that completed, the graduates filed off the stage, each pausing to relight their candle as Wilson turned the tassel on their mortar board to officially signify their new status;

After tossing their mortarboards high in the air in the time-honoured tradition, the grads joined their families for the banquet.

Pentek toasted the grads, noting that she had taught many of them since Grade 7, and although illness had brought her career to an abrupt halt, she still was here to help them celebrate.

Brittany Ballas replied to the toast, noting that "all our teachers had an amazing impact on our lives. Because of your encouragement, we are able to take the next step out into the world."

Troy Lehr toasted the parents, thanking them and the families for their support. Herb Lehr replied, and said that "one thing we didn't learn in school was how to be a parent. You taught us to be better parents, more trusting and more giving."

Sara Kozicky toasted the teachers. "From playschool to Grade 12, teachers have angered and confused us, for our benefit. They have volunteered time so we could have new experiences and opportunities to learn. These moments from school will be with us throughout our lives."

Murray Boratynec replied on behalf of the teachers that, "it was an honour and a privilege working with you and your fellow grads. It has been fun teaching you."

Graduates Sage Lowry and Dan Blacklock presented the ceremonial Crusader sword to Natalie Maas and Adam Zapesocki, who are members of this coming year's grad class.

Maas, Sabrina Stewart, Melissa Frisby and Brittany Morrison distributed fare-well gifts to the grads as the evening drew to a close.

Grandparents honoured with walk, program

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Grandparents and their families set out under sunny skies on Sunday afternoon for the Grandparents Day walk, enjoying an energizing tour around town before returning to the Elk Point Seniors Recreation Centre for a program in their honour.

"You are our most precious commodity," Mayor Parrish Tung told the grandparents. "Thank you for your community spirit."

MLA Ray Danyluk, who has volunteerism as part of his portfolio, thanked Diana Anderson for spearheading the celebration and said that Alberta volunteers contribute the equivalent of $7 billion to the economy, "a phenomenal contribution to our province."

Donna Chamberland lost her elderly father just a week ago, and dedicated her participation in the walk to him. Her parents had provided her children with many special memories, which were expressed when they returned home for the funeral, from a special beach made just for them, to rides to early morning university classes, to the fine example they set for their grandchildren.

Bernice Capjack organized a "somewhat rushed" colouring, poster and story contest at Elk Point Elementary School, and was on hand to present awards to the winners. Fawn Ockerman won the Grade 1 and Brodie Odgaard the Grade 2 colouring contests, Madison Ference submitted the winning Grade 3/4 poster and Olivia Rose Leaf the winning story, while Rachael Walton won the Grade 5/6 contest with her poster and Madelyn Ludlage with her story.

Not all grandparents receive that title by birth, Anderson said. "My kids had an adopted Baba, Nettie Babenek. I knew my children would be safe and loved when they were with her."

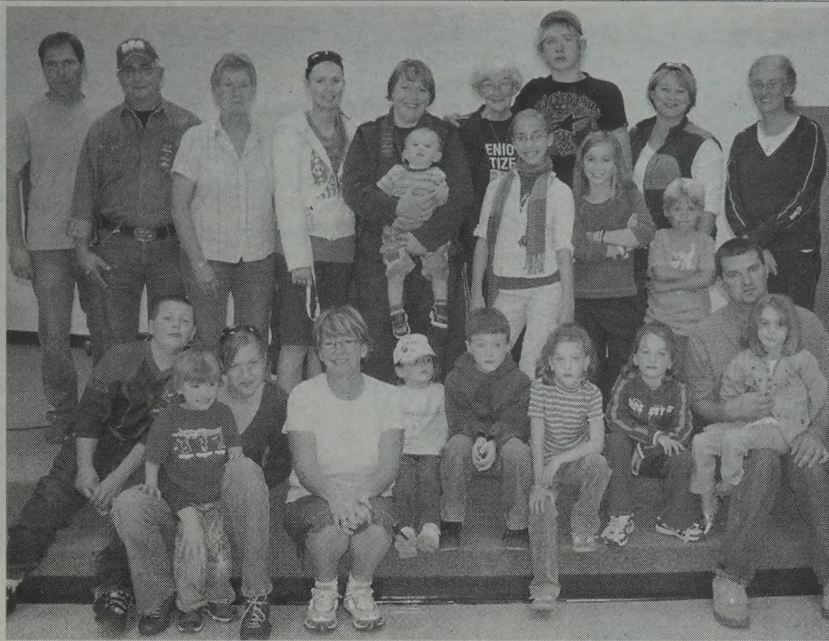

Babenek's daughter, Rose Nazarchuk, provided warm memories of her parents, from her mother's love of berry picking to her father's love of music.

Three four-generation families were honoured, with plaques presented to Marie Loughran, who brought along son Kerry, granddaughter Kyrie and great-granddaughter Cadence, to Hazel Hannah, and to Peggy Maas, who was accompanied by two daughters and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Musical entertainment was provided by Bob and Emily Thompson, Rocky Wallbaum and Ed Nazarchuk.

Anderson was happy to announce that a grand total of $4,742 in walk pledges had been received to date, of which a third would go to the Elk Point Seniors Centre, a third to African grandparents, and the remaining third to the Alberta Council on Aging. Deanna Easthope presented t-shirts to all participants who brought in $100 or more, including Olive Trach, Irene Melin, Ray and Lorraine Danyluk and Gabe Bayduza. Those bringing in more than $200, Peggy Maas, Lucille Smith, Donna Chamberland, Amelia Bowen, Bernice Capjack and Shirley Kvill, also had their names entered in a draw for Elk Point Dinner Theatre tickets, sponsored by Mooswa Holdings, with Chamberland winning the tickets to next spring's show.

GUEST COLUMN

Something to learn

Now that school is back in session, programs have started and basically, we are all back in "the routine" for the next ten months. Have you ever thought about the things we learned in Kindergarten?

From the book: Chicken Soup for the Soul, Robert Fulghum tells what he learned in Kindergarten. "Most of what I really need to know about how to live and what to do and how to be, I learned in Kindergarten. Wisdom was not at the top of the graduate mountain, but there in the sandbox at nursery school. These are the things I learned: Share everything. Play fair. Don't hit people. Put things back where you found them. Clean up your own mess. Don't take things that aren't yours. Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody. Wash your hands before you eat. Flush. Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you. Live a balanced life. Learn some and think some and draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work every day some. Take a nap every afternoon. When you go out into the world, watch for traffic, hold hands and stick together. Be aware of wonder. Remember the little seed in the plastic cup. The roots go down and the plant goes up and nobody really knows how or why, but we are all like that. Goldfish and hamsters and white mice and even the little seed in the plastic cup - they all die. So do we. And then remember the book about Dick and Jane and the first word you learned, the biggest word of all: LOOK. Everything you need to know is in there somewhere. The Golden Rule and love and basic sanitation. Ecology and politics and sane living. Think of what better world it would be if we all - the whole world - had cookies and milk about 3 o'clock every afternoon and then lay down with our blankets for a nap. Or if we had a basic policy in our nations to always put things

deanna
from the FCSS desk

back where we found them and cleaned up our own messes. And it is still true, no matter how old you are, when you go out into the world, it is better to hold hands and stick together." Yes, all of this is really great - "if only", we could apply today what we learned in kindergarten.

There is another story that I found interesting. It is an experience shared by Gordon B. Hinckley. He said: "Many years ago I worked in the head office of one of our railroads. One day I received a telephone call from my counterpart in Newark, New Jersey, who said that a passenger train had arrived without its baggage car. The patrons were angry. "We discovered that the train had been properly made up in Oakland, California, and property delivered to St. Louis, from which station it was to be carried to its destination on the east coast. But in the St. Louis yards, a thoughtless switchman had moved a piece of steel just three inches. That piece of steel was a switch point, and the car that should have been in Newark, New Jersey, was in New Orleans, Louisiana, thirteen hundred miles away." This story is probably not unique in that with all the travelling that people do today, the incident of "lost baggage" is not uncommon. However, the one main point is that people seem to need to have information and knowledge in all their decision making. What we do each day is important as it not only affects us, it affects people around us. To move the "switch" three inches may not have seemed important but it really was. Likewise in our community of Elk Point, with tonight being our annual Community Information Night, it is important that we attend so we can learn what is happening in our community in regard to all the clubs, organizations and people services that come to Elk Point.

4-H: a new beginning

By DARREN TYMOFICHUK
Club Reporter

As a wind down from a busy year, here is an update of the latest happenings.

The Horse Project went on an Achievement Day trail ride in June. They had lots of fun. The regional horse camp was held in July. They practiced riding skills, had fun and made lots of new friends. They had a great horse show to end the event.

Janice Tymofichuk attended the Leadership Through Counselling Seminar camp. Nicole Tymofichuk, Britney Heathcote and Edna Kulczycki attended the Moose Lake Junior Camp with Janice counselling from Aug. 13 to 17. A week later, Alanna Ockerman and I attended the Moose Lake Intermediate Camp. In the third week of August, Robyn Ockerman attended PDP Plus. We all had lots of fun during the camps.

As a start to the new year, we will be having a meeting on Sept. 12 at 7 p.m. at F. G. Miller High School. We will be discussing our projects for the 2007-2008 club year as well as passing around some new ideas of fun things to do.

If you are between the ages of 9 and 20 as of Jan. 1, and looking to try something new while making new friends and having fun, come check us out.

4-H is more than just cows and horses. It is an organization for the whole family to enjoy.

THANK YOU BALLAS

The family of Peter Ballas would like to thank Dr. Ramful, Dr. Oyebo and the nurses and staff of the Elk Point Health Care Centre for the care and compassion shown to Peter and our family.

We would also like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to family, friends and co-workers for their support and kindness, gifts of food, flowers, cards and donations to Haying in the 30's Cancer Support Society.

Thank you to Pastor Kelly Sibley and Yewchin's Funeral Chapel for the very personalized service. Thanks to the Seniors Centre for the wonderful lunch. Your kindness will always be remembered.

year from Elk Point, a good quarter or third of the team, I would say, and some really talented players at that. Colton Hymanyk, Stephan John, Mark Proskiw, Cody White, Jordan Mudryk, Harrison Maas, John Waboose, Kyle Pelletier, Damion Pelletier, Wacey Durocher and Mason Smith are all suited up for the orange and white.

Only the strong can survive in the jungle, two weekends ago the Bengals hunted down and tore apart Cold Lake 52 to 8. Harrison Maas and Colton Hymanyk with a couple of touchdowns each, Mark Proskiw with three interceptions, along with four one-point conversions, Cody White with one interception in the end zone, a good game for Damion Pelletier who injured his leg in the fourth quarter, and big hits for Wacey Durocher and Mason Smith in the action-filled game.

Hey, if you're not watching Monday night football, come on down to the A.G. Ross Arena for the annual Monday night work bees, every Monday night in September at 7 p.m. And if you haven't done so already you can register tonight for Minor Hockey at the Information Night being held tonight at the Elks Hall.

Saturday morning I'm scanning through the Maple Leafs website to see how the boys are doing and guess what? Our very own Mark "the Marksman" Letestu scored a goal against the baby Leafs last Friday night in a rookie tournament held in Kitchener, Ontario. You can go on the Pittsburgh Penguins web site, click on the third video from the rookie tournament if you want to see the goal, it's a real beauty. But why against the Leafs? What's up with that, Mark?

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week- "It ain't over till it's over." Last week's answer to- "Managing is never fun. If you pull off something big, it's expected. If you fail, you're a bum."- Skipper Paul Richards.
